We have very great pleasure in being able to announce the integration of SEMIA SAS within Condition Monitoring Group (CMG) Ltd.

All CMG businesses specialise in development of Vibration Condition Monitoring solutions for the Aerospace, Industrial and Automotive sectors, with direct customer representation through wholly-owned operating businesses in the UK, Germany, Italy and the US.

The addition of SEMIA in France significantly enhances CMG's product offering through integration of SEMIA's successful helicopter gas-turbine engine monitoring products within the Group's portfolio. Additionally, CMG's core competencies within the civil aerospace will be expanded through SEMIA's existing EASA pt.145, pt.21G and pt.21J approvals.

CMG has already enjoyed a successful long-term relationship with SEMIA, as distributor of its Rotortuner Products in France for over 30 years. Integration of SEMIA into the CMG Group of companies reinforces this successful relationship and facilitates full exploitation of SEMIA's products and capabilities across all markets in which CMG operates, as well as providing direct customer representation in France for the other CMG businesses.

We hope that it will soon be possible to meet freely once again in order to discuss the exciting opportunities that the future holds. In the meantime, please do not hesitate to contact us should you have any questions, or require any further information regarding CMG products, services and solutions for Vibration Condition Monitoring.
